Screening and Talk

David Washburn
Filmmaker

Monday
November 9
4:10-6:00 pm

Fine Arts Bldg.
Room 193

A timely documentary about religious freedom and the struggle against intolerance.

David Washburn is documentary filmmaker from Oakland. In addition to An American Mosque, he recently has produced short documentaries for the Veterans Documentary Corps, a short film series produced by the Documentary Film Institute at SF State University. He has received numerous awards from Muslim civil rights groups for An American Mosque, and his has been honored by the U.S. Department of Education, Cal Humanities, and Center for Cultural Innovation.

Presented by Journalism 610, Diversity and the News Media